Canadian Veterans' Stories

By: Darlene Lawson

Edward Janzen, Publisher and Editor of The Gentle Edge Publishing Company Limited will be in Richibucto on October 23rd, 2007 for the book launch and signing of the Company's latest book - 'Canadian Veterans' Stories.'

The Gentle Edge Publishing Company publishes a magazine for easy reading called 'Canadian Stories.' The magazine has six issues a year, and contains stories and poems submitted freely by Canadian writers. It also publishes other books including two anthologies of 'Canadian Stories'. The publishing company was founded ten years ago by Edward and his wife, Susan, after his retirement as Professor of Chemistry from the University of Guelph in Ontario. Edward and Susan live in Belwood, Ontario.

The life stories of Raymond Burns, Edwin Hudson, and Mike Sanipass, as well as a story including many local Veterans which features George Doucet are included in the new book.

Also included are memories of Lockard David Petley, Morrin Kenneth Petley, and Hugh Hector McPherson of Harcourt. Sophie Campbell, a Silver Cross Mother from Kent Co., is also featured in the book. These collections were written by Shelia Handrahan of Harcourt.

The Book Launch will begin at 11:00 a.m. at the Richibucto Legion. A dinner for invited guests will be held to honor our local Veterans. Local entertainment and book signing will continue in the afternoon. An invitation is extended to all who would like to come out and honor our Veterans.
